Re: City of Burnside, Tusmore Park Wading Pool Resurfacing

To Whom It May Concern;

The project undertaken by Poly Tech Industrial Flooring required the complete resurfacing of an iconic wading pool well known by thousands of visitors to our city. The project was very high profile, with a tight time frame to complete the work. The project was eagerly awaited by the many customers that visit the site, and with that came a degree of pressure to have the work completed as fast as possible. However that added pressure never compromised the attention to detail or the high quality of workmanship of the staff.

The level of communication by all senior staff was excellent and any issues that were raised, addressed immediately. The performance of all employees was a credit to the professional approach the company takes towards the product it promotes. The end product was a testament to the hard work undertaken and the high attention to detail the staff directed towards the work.

I would have no hesitation in recommending Poly Tech Industrial Flooring to other local government organisations.

Yours sincerely

John Draper
Landscape Projects Officer
